YOUR HEART

Pains in That Region Scarcely Ever Mean Heart Disease but Are Generally Caused by Indigestion.

Most people who have heart disease do not know it. Most people who think they have heart disease, haven't. They only think so. Pain in the region of the heart is mistakenly supposed to be a symptom of heart disease. Just as pain in the back seldom or never indicates kidney trouble, so pain near the heart is scarcely ever present in organic heart disease. This pain is nearly always from the stomach which is connected with the heart by many

When your digestion is out of order it often affects the heart and even causes an irregularity in its beat. The gas produced by undigested and fermenting food may cause pressure that affects the heart unpleasantly. But these pains do not mean that you have heart disease nor need fear sudden death. Try toning up the stomach and learn how quickly and surely you lose the fear of heart disease.

Tone up the stomach. Correct any errors of diet. Eat the right things and not too much of them. If you do not know what the right things are, send for our diet book. It is free. Don't starve yourself and don't pamper your stomach with predigested food and artificial aids to digestion. Tone up your stomach so that it will do its own proper work, don't worry about your heart or anything else (worry causes and aggravates indigestion) and you will be well and happy.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best digestive tonic. Improvement begins with the first dose. First you notice an increase in your appetite. Then you see that the food does not distress you, that you are no longer troubled with gas, sour risings in the throat and those misleading pains around the heart. Strength and energy return and the rich red blood, bearing the full amount of nourishment yielded by food, carries renewed vitality to every organ of

DON'T WORRY ABOUT INGALLS-COLLAIS CONCERT GRAND

Audience Appreciated Every Note from Throat and Violin

The Ingalls-Collais concert in the Epmire theatre last night was all and more than the greatest music-lover of the city could have wished for.

The first selection by Mrs. Ingalls, Mendelssohn's concerto in E minor, was most delicately and charmingly rendered, bringing from the audience that encouraging expression that all artists like to hear, and it was not stinted in the present case.

During Mrs. Ingalls' recital in the first number there were several annoying niterruptions. One of the big doors at the Bethel street entrance slammed to and this was closely foilowed by the slamming of its mate on the other side of the box office. Added to this the burning out of a fuse threw the house into darknes for a few moments. But through it all Mrs. Ingalls and her accompanist, Miss Gertrude Brown, carried the selectionwith never a waver or a suspicion of a break in the harmony.

Miss Collais followed Mrs. Ingalis with a season of song, the delicate and marvelous throat work of which surprised even those who thought they were familiar with the every compass of her voice. In the "Cry of Rachael" the expression and tone that were given to Miss Collais' voice was simply marvelous, and the clear control of the low uttered notes carried a suspicion of ventriloquism, the notes seeming to gain the quality of audibility out over the heads of the audi-
